

A new build 63 meter superyacht by Admiral

Admiral, a brand of The Italian Sea Group, is pleased to announce the sale of a new build 63 meter superyacht with Alex Banning at SuperYachtsMonaco representing the Buyer.

The Yacht reflects the Owner's exacting requirements and will provide him with the perfect balance of Italian design, flair, creativity and style with pedigree suppliers and contractors, and reflects the Owner's requests.

Admiral and the Buyer's team were tasked to produce the pinnacle of 20 years of Superyacht ownership and following a year long process of design and development, Admiral are proud to announce yet another experienced Superyacht owner choosing their shipyard over the Northern European shipyards.

Built to Lloyd's class, this stunning superyacht will be delivered in 2019. Both Admiral and the Owner have developed into a pedigree project that will be managed by Superyacht Technical Services, the Owner's team, SuperYachtsMonaco and Admiral's highly experienced and dedicated in-house resources.

Group's Vice Chairman Francesco Carbone says "We are extremely satisfied to have made the agreement with this owner to build this yacht for such an immensely experienced and passionate Yachtsman. It has been a pleasure working with Alex Banning and the whole Owner's team and we look forward to the successful completion of another quality vessel".

Group's CEO Giuseppe Taranto comments "We are proud for the sale of this outstanding yacht in the same period in which we are launching three brand new Admiral yachts of 55m, 50m and 38m. We look forward to yet another quality and on time delivery. To win the contract with such an experienced and influential client is testament to Admiral as a brand and shipyard of high standards now and into the future".
